okay so make it that he chooses one of those options about what to pick make it that if he chooses one of them or any one or many of them that they get highlighted if the if he and the other ones vanish if he choose other things because now with other things if he chooses one of those options then other things now he writes some things which will be added to those things that he chooses before and if he doesn't change any of those things those options as we give him at the beginning and he only chooses other things then all that chosen ones before all those choices gets vanish as well and only leave him with other things so that he can write those other things that he will want to like pick up and send okay and some scenarios might the customer does not care about the type of the vehicle okay so let's say someone wants to load and pick up motorcycle and send it to another city it doesn't care about the the type of the vehicle which will pick and deliver it it can be a pickup it can be a Transit it can be a big vehicle truck as long as he gets a cheaper price the cheaper price so we shouldn't force him to pick up a vehicle so what do you think should we do in this case should they give him a choice to not pick shall like give us the gift of the application to choice or he can click something that says that I don't care about any type of vehicle or share I don't know just think what you should do here this section from where to where in which the person feels in from where is the pickup and where is the destination I want you to be moved to the previous page under what are you moving okay so either it goes under what's moving once it's in there what's it's it's like a first like a known by the AI or under what it was the options that he makes to what about the goods what are the goods the options that he makes or writes about the goods I wanted to go underneath it this pick up and destination so move it

07/11/2026, 22:21:31 · customer · en · light · customer · card and here for for who goes with the goods if we collect someone else just remove that the name box and the number just remove it just he can just highlight someone else and that's it without giving information or data so remove that in this screen you can see that the box that in which I should write notes for the driver it has that type in start for in the left while I'm using the Arabic keyboard as you can see in the screen this should not happen that box should end it should be able to recognize the fact that I'm using another big keyboard and goes to the left so I start to go to the right I mean go to the right so that I can start writing from the right unless I chew I change the single language to English or French then it must recognize the fact that I'm using a keyboard French or English and start from the left okay
